

MISSING.

The Spanish Steamer Reina Regente Overdue.

It is Believed in Madrid That She Has Foundered.

The Regente's Commandant Has Been Seen at Tarifa on Thursday. A Vessel Seen In Search of the Missing Ship With No Tidings.

Madrid, March 15.—The ministers were questioned in Congress yesterday afternoon regarding the Reina Regente. Premier Sagasta replied that the government had been unable to get definite news of the cruiser, and feared that she had been wrecked.

The general opinion in Madrid and the large seaports is that the cruiser has foundered with all hands. The majority of the crew belonged in Cadiz and Cartagena, where the excitement is intense.

The missing steamer has left Tangiers early Thursday morning to search for the cruiser. She returned Thursday morning with eleven captives away from the ship. The ship was wrecked in Sunday's gale. She will go on Friday to ascertain whether the Reina Regente has been seen in some Moorish port without a telegraph line by which her arrival could be announced.

A dispatch from Tarifa, on the south coast, says that the Reina Regente's compass box came ashore there Thursday afternoon.
